Built Cultural Heritage

Huaral/ Lima

2014

Leveraging advanced technology, the Rupac 3D Project, backed by a USD 22,513.00 investment from Turismo Cuida, carried out a thorough documentation and evaluation of the Kullpis structures in Rupac. This initiative led to the creation of life-sized replicas and significantly raised awareness of this important cultural heritage. In collaboration with the Peruvian University of Art ORVAL, the project delivered several key benefits, including increased income for the local community, enhanced educational outreach about the heritage, and the preservation of the original structures.
